Panel assignments

Thank you for your cooperation in assessing grant applications on behalf of the Research Council of Norway.

You have previously received an e-mail confirming the assigned task and directing you to these webpages to access the grant proposals to be assessed.

Impartiality and Confidence
Please see the Regulations on Impartiality and Confidence in the Research Council of Norway - Extract. All expert referees are required to be familiar with these rules.

Submitting the assessment form
The Research Council case officer will specify which of the panel members is to be responsible for submitting the panel's final assessment.

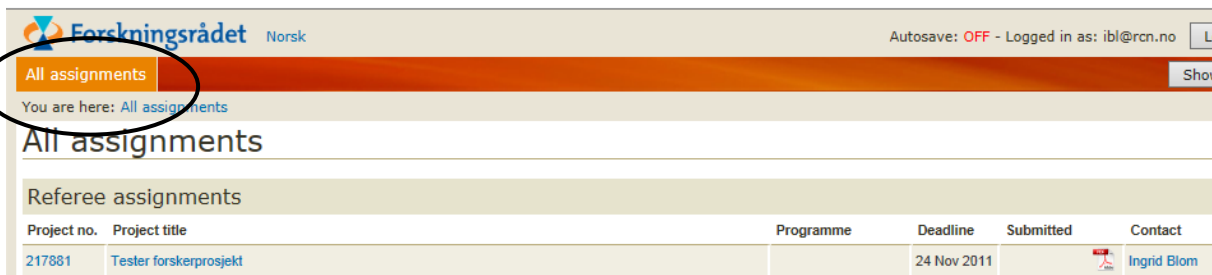

A panel member's own assessment should only be sent to the Research Council when this has been specifically agreed upon with the case officer.

Access the grant application(s) and web assessment form by clicking the button "Go to all assignments".

See the Guidelines for the Web Assessment Form at www.forskningradet.no/referee.

Web assessment form
Use the menus to complete the assessment form.
It is important that the text for each of the criteria, and especially the conclusion "Overall assessment of the referee/panel", is sufficiently comprehensive to give a meaningful scientific feedback to the applicant.

Help

The various criteria on which the grant application is to be assessed are found here. Read the definition of the criterion and scale of marks carefully before you enter your assessment and assign a mark. Choose the mark that most aptly describes the application. Marks are selected by clicking in the box to the far right of the mark you have chosen. Be sure to enter your comments for each criterion. NOTE: If you are unable to assign a mark, choose "Not assessed".

It is important to indicate a mark in the appropriate box

Or if there is some reason you feel you cannot evaluate a criteria, please indicate this here

Help

The grant applications to be assessed are found here.

- Click on the project title to begin assessing the grant application.
- Click on a column heading to sort the list by that criteria.
- Referee assignments are applications you will be assessing as an individual expert referee.
- Panel assignments are applications you will be assessing as a member of a referee panel.
- Some of the panel members, such as the principal and second assessors, are required to submit their draft assessments prior to the panel meeting. For more information, please contact the case officer.
- When the status for the assignment is listed as Shared, all members of the panel can view all draft assessments submitted to the Research Council.
- When the status is listed as Panel, all panel members can edit and submit the panel's final assessment.

NOTE: The Research Council will indicate who is responsible for submitting the panel's final assessment. For more information, please contact the case officer.

To access a pdf-version of the assessments, click on the pdf-icon in the list.

Overall assessment of the referee/panel

What is the overall assessment of this project?
The overall assessment of the referee/panel taking into account the criteria which the referee/panel has been asked to assess.
The scale of marks is to be applied as an absolute scale, i.e. marks are to be determined for each grant application independently and not relative to other applications that the panel/referee is assessing.
